

Bush Kinder report – June

We may have missed half of Term 2 out at Bush Kinder but we are more than making up for it!

The children have settled back into Bush Kinder smoothly. Their confidence and growing maturity is apparent.

It is a wonderful season to be out at BK as without the intense heat of summer, we can enjoy the fresh air, puddles and gentle sunshine.

There are some huge puddles, which a number of children are spending time wading through, running and jumping into and even shifting logs around in.

Last week, some children that were more hesitant about the puddles were observed to choose to put on their wet gear and wade in.

The children are building their independence by dressing themselves into their wet gear and changing shoes to boots. Tree climbing is a popular thing to do at BK and we see confidence and bravery building in this area.

We have taken long walks during 2 of our sessions, which have been greatly enjoyed by the group.

Last week we took a walk down the spooky stairs, over the little bridge and along to the river that requires a small jump from one rock step to another. We had a system that the children needed to follow which we discussed before we undertook this challenge. Two teachers assisted the children to take the leap across to make it to the other side. The children loved the challenge and we could see the pride and excitement in their faces. There was lots of joyous singing along the walk back.

It's wonderful to be back! Susie – Bush Kinder Teacher
